MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS. Market Dull, with Firmness and Little Activ-

Prime mercantile paper, 512@7 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet and steady at $4.84 for sixty-day bills and $4.88 for demand.

The total sales of stock to-day were 73,823 shares, including the following: Atchison, 10,970; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 1,614; Louisville & Nashville, 4,285; Northern Pacific preferred, 8,200; St. Paul, 8,320; Union Pacific, 2,800.

The stock market was dull and steady in the main, but a firm tone developed in few stocks which gave character to the trading and was the means of leaving most of the list slightly higher at the close. The general expectation was that the bank statement would show only a slight change from that of last week, and in this there was no disappointment, though the statement indicated a large loss in cash, which, however, the decrease in the legal require-ments prevented from making any material loss in the reserve. The trading was in the main mercly professional and reached only small proportions. In the great majority of the list the fluctuations were on the same limited scale. There was realizing in Chicago Gas, and that stock retired 134 from the best price of yesterday, but heavy buying of Atchison was seen and a rise of 34 followed. The industrials, as a rule, followed Chicago Gas and Whisky lost 34. The rest of the market was entirely featureless, and while St. Paul was active, no marked movement was seen. The opening was made at slight changes from last evening's figures, and an improving tendency in the first hour was followed by a partial reaction later. The close was steady at the figures. Atchison is up 1 per cent. and Southern Pacific a like amount, while Chicago Gas lost only 78.

Railroad bonds were very dull and the transactions for the two hours of business reaches only $247,000, while the temper was steady and the final changes without sig-

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Heavy Day for Wheat Caused by Favorable

Harvesting Reports from Texas. CHICAGO, June 6.-Trading in wheat was again only of secondary importance in the day's speculative business, corn being by far the strongest market on the floor. The "bulls" in wheat were greatly discouraged, the market responding very freely to any bearish news that was set affoat, but utterly refusing to respond to influence of the opposite sort. Despite the strength in corn and the liberal purchases for shipment and export, wheat sagged steadily. Dispatches from Texas said that harvest was in full blast, and that shipments from that State would begin in ten days. Cook county, the banner wheat county of the State, reported that it would raise as much wheat this year as for the last three. Samples of fine wheat from Charleston, Mo., some of which was cut early in the week and the balance to be cut next week, were shown on the floor and the effect was depressing. The crop reports received late in the session were unfavorable, but came too late to affeet the market. A private dispatch from Paris quoted the weather hot, and reports from New York said that wheat bought for only 124,000 were officially reported, and also attached little weight to export sales of 200,000 bushels by Dunn and by Thompson at Duluth, and reported sales of 400,000 bushels by Pillsbury. An active cash business was reported at this and other Western and Northwestern points. Bradstreet reports clearings of wheat and flour from both coasts for the week equal to 2,697,000 bushels of wheat against 2,343,000 last week. The indications are for exports, the year ending July 1, of 100,000,000 bushels, against 104,584,000 for the previous year. Deliveries of wheat by English farmers last week reached 62,677 quarters, against 52,812 for the preceding week. The price of July wheat at the opening was 983sc, and the extreme range to within a short time of the closing was 985sc and 9734c. The strength in corn then began to be felt, and the closing figure was at 981sc. Late cables quoted half to three-quarters mark lower at Berlin and Paris, and 10 to 20 centimes lower for flour and 15 centimes lower for

July wheat. Corn displayed considerable activity during the first hour of the session. The wet weather and the light receipts induced the "shorts" to do a great deal of buying and also stimulated a great deal of buying for investment. The "bull" clique sold sparingly until a good advance had been scored when it sold more heavily. July started at 587sc, sold up to 565sc, fell back to 58340 and became steady around 59c, but again sold off and closed at 585sc. The estimates for Monday were light and the indications were for light loadings at country stations

Oats were strong early, but did not hold the advance. Bartlett-Frazier led the selling on the early bulge. July started at 4412c, touched top and bottom at 45c and 4413c, respectively, and closed at 4414c bid. Provisions started easy because of large receipts of hogs, but improved sharply with corn. Offerings by packers and the break in wheat carried them off to the lowest figure of the day. A temporary advance of about 712e in pork, .05c in lard and .0212c in ribs took place; the advance, however, was all lost, and pork at the close showed a decline of 712 to 10c, lard .05c, ribs .05 to .0712c. The estimated receipts of hogs for the week, for a liberal movement and the selling out of July and buying of September at an increase of the fluences at the close. The leading futures

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

A Week in Which Trade in Most Lines Fell Short of Expectations.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6 .- In most departments trade in the week closing to-day has been disappointing in its volume; especially is this remark true as regards the last three days of the week, which have been rainy and too cool to make summer goods move briskly. Merchants are not complaining, however, feeling that the shortcomings of this week will be overcome in the remaining weeks of the month. Prices on several lines of goods have been unsettled. Coffees, roasted grades, went off 120 and are weak at that quotation. Green hides went off 1gc, and the market is tame. Hog products, although moving well in a jobbing way, rule easy in price. At the close of the week poultry, eggs and butter all ranged lower than in the early part of the week. Receipts are larger, while the demand, except for young spring chickens, has fallen off. In dry goods there is a fair trade, prices ruling easy on several lines. The seed market is quiet and but little improvement looked for until next month. The flour market is unsettled. Export demand was some better, but prices have not reached the proper level with the prices which have ruled on wheat for some time past. The hardware men and the irondealers report trade very satisfactory. Prices firm at the range of some weeks past. Leather-dealers, as well, report trade very stisfactory. A belief prevails that with genuine summer weather trade would reach very satisfactory proportions.

The local market ruled very quiet, and the bidding indicates that corn is the only cereal which is in good request. All grades of wheat it will be noticed, are 4 to 5 cents lower than a week ago, and, at the lower prices, but little is doing. Oats, as well, are moving slow, and prices breaking on all grades. Track bids to-day ruled as fol-

ORPHAN ASYLUM EXHIBITION.

It Prompts Preachers Milburn and Hunter to Prod the Presbyterian Theologians.

An audience, a goodly number of whom were children, crowded the Tabernacle Church last evening, the occasion being the annual exhibition of the Indianapolis Orphan Asylum, at which reports of officers where read, but where the most interesting part of the programme was the songs and recitations of the children. Mayor Sullivan presided and opened the meeting with a brief speech. This was followed by the Lord's Prayer, which was recited by all the little ones in chorus, there being nearly half a hundred boys and girls on the platform. The recitations were unusually good, Tommy Crandall, who for three years has received immense applause for his oratorical efforts, now having a rival in Benny West. Recitations were also given by Myrtle Loder, Raymond Willey, Otis Wakefield and Lina Loder. In her report, the secretary, Mrs. Graham A. Wells, noted that Mr. and Mrs. John C.

Wright, feeling the necessity of a special ward for the care of new-born infants, had given the first money for a foundling ward, $1,000. It was further mentioned that gifts had been made in the shape of dinners on Thanksgiving and Christmas; that there had been donations of books, dolls and toys; that Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Bassett had remembered the children on the Fourth of July with ice-cream and cake; that the Dramatic Club had rendered two plays for the benefit of the asylum; that John T. Brush had furnished a beautiful lawn fete last July and had done other kindnesses during the year; that the Sab-bath-schools of the city had provided funds for a kindergarten teacher since last December. Mention was also made of the fact that the children had ridden upon the street cars, free of charge, through the kindness of Mr. Shaffer, and fifty of the older children had attended the State fair gratis. It was further noted that Drs. Taylor, .Woodburn, Vernon and Moffitt had given medical attention during the year, and that Dr. Oliver had attended to the dentistry, while Shover & Dickson had given ice, and that Nancy Daubenspeck had remembered the orphans by a bandsome be-quest, which will be available in a few years, The report exhibited the fact that 249 children have been cared for during the year; 155 admitted; 65 taken to homes; 65 to friends: 2 to the blind asylum: 1 each to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home and School for Feeble Minded Youth; 2 ransway and 9 died, leaving 97 in the asylum May 1. The report of Dr. Vernon showed that health in the institution had been remarkably good during the past year. The most prevalent diseases were la grippe, 10 cases; scariatina, 2; measles, 4; diphtheria, 8; intermittent and remittent fevers, 12; Rev. J. A. Milburn was called upon to speak a few words. "Of the three excellencies of Christianity," he said, "charity has prominence over faith and hope. Faith and hope are primarily subjective, charity is primarily objective. It goes with wide open arms towards the world's suffering and needy. Paul accented charity in one of the sweetest songs sung by any prophet of the human race, and Jesus Christ accented it by making it the open sesame to the golden gates, when he said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye have done it unto me.' The Christian church is, bit by bit, learning this philanthropic and accenting theology less more and more accenting charity. tenderness, compassion and love. I was somewhat surprised at the Presbyterian Church in its meeting at Detroit the past week. It was so intensely theological; it gave so much time to Dr. Briggs and so no time to active philanthrophy that called so loudly for the thought and action of our church. [Applause.] But on the whole we are progressing toward this more tender side, the neart side of the Christian faith. It is indeed true there is much suffering, much sorrow, much anguish in the world. Let us carry to it our strength, our hope, our life and our balm. This home not only clothes these little ones, but ministers to their bodies, pays attention to their minds, educates them and sees to their character. To visit the asylum is an object lesson in optimism. You will there learn what good Christians are in the world. You will behold it very clean and neat and the sweetest ministrations to these children. We ought to thank the managers who come out of their own beautiful homes to care for these children who are found in the debris of life."

Rev. R. V. Hunter said the heart would be hard indeed that was not touched by those little ones and the generous work done for them. He was at the Presbyterian General Assembly at Detroit, and, like Mr. Milburn, wondered when that assembly would touch upon some orphan asylum work, or upon prisons, or a home for the aged. He thought the church had lost by not paying attention to such things, and spoke of the work done by Catholics in founding hospitals, instancing St. Vincent's Hospital in this city. "lan't there," said he, "enough of zeal and sanctified business sense among the Presbyterian churches to do something of this kind? It seems to me that we ought to realize as Christian peo-ple that we are not doing our duty. The world is hungering and thirsting for practical Christianity. As Mrs. Anna Baggs, treasurer, came forward with her report, and adjusted her glasses, she remarked: "Twenty-seven years ago when I submitted my report I did not have to wear glasses, and as we only had $300 in the treasury it was not very difficult to take care of it." The report showed a balance on hand from last year of $864.79; contributions received during the year bringing the amount to $12,019.21; expenditures during the year were $11,248.45, leaving a balance May 1, 1891, of $775.76. Of the money received for maintenance. $8,- 426.65 came from the County Commission-Judge E. B. Martindale spoke of the services of the matron, Mrs. Wishard, who has long been connected with the institution and who is now seriously ill. Dr. Rondthaler made a brief speech leading up to a collection which brought in $80.07 ir cash. It was turned over to the treasurer, and the audience was dismissed with a benediction by Mr. Milburn.
